- ❑ Media and Society

ONLINE COURSE DEVELOPMENT

- ❑ Media and Society (MACS 351). Developed and taught as an on-line course.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT ENVIRONMENTAL COMMUNICATIONS

Primarily responsible for developing the Environmental Communications and Education option. This option broadened the topic area specialties in Agricultural Communications to more completely reflect the range of specializations within the college, specifically environmental sciences, and integrated two disciplines -- communications and education -- within a single curriculum design. The Environmental option was incorporated into a revised Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences Communications major.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT ENVIRONMENTAL COMMUNICATIONS

Systematically reviewed and revised all courses in the Environmental Communications sequence of the Environmental Communications and Education curriculum. Developed seven new courses for environmental communications, three of which were in the required sequence. Began accepting students into environmental communications, 1998.

Primary advisor for the Environmental Communication and Education students, 1998-2009.

Developed internship program and job placement program for Environmental Communications, 2000-2005.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY STUDIES AND OUTREACH

Director of the Community Studies and Outreach program. During the three years that I was concentration chair, the Community Studies and Outreach program faculty substantially revised the Ph.D concentration, increasing enrollment from 1 to 2 students active to 10 (for the 3 year coursework period).

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT COMMUNITY STUDIES

As Director, I oversaw a systematic review of all courses in Community Studies and Outreach program. The revised program concentration included the development of additional courses -- Community Development and Community Mobilization.

In addition, I developed, revised and taught the following courses for the Community Studies and Outreach program.

531** Community Theory (HCD)

595** Advanced Topics in Human and Community Development:
Community and the Environment (HCD)

538** Community Mobilization (HCD)

595 Community Modeling (NRES) – co-instructor

ADVISING

Advise approximately 15 undergraduate students each year (1985-2009).

Primary advisor for the Environmental Communication and Education students, 1998-2003.

Developed and maintained job placement board for Environmental Communications and Education students, 2000-2003.

Developed internship program for Environmental Communications and Education students, 2000-2003.
