

ILLINOIS ECONOMICS: ODE Economics Honor Society INFORMATION FORM

Omicron Delta Epsilon (ODE) is an internationally recognized honor society for economics. Organizational objectives include recognition for scholastic achievement in economics and provision of a format for information regarding further study in economics, graduate school, and career opportunities. The web site for the national office is <http://www.omicrondeltaepsilon.org/> and our chapter website is <http://www.economics.illinois.edu/undergrad/students/ode/>

ODE membership provides a reference to include on your graduate school or employment applications. Membership includes access to The American Economist which is a potential outlet for the publication of student essays and papers. ODE members are also eligible to compete in national essay competitions sponsored annually by ODE. The local chapter may organize additional events for ODE.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:

Qualifying students must submit the following to our office:

1. "Internal Application for Membership" for the ILLINOIS Economics Chapter;
2. "Membership Application Form" for ODE;
3. Updated Resume;
