“I have thoroughly enjoyed learning from Dr. Abrego as she is an engaging and encouraging educator who through her own example pushes learners to strive for excellence.”
– Resident

Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award for the Psychiatry Clerkship

“Dr. Alahi makes the outpatient experience interesting through robust discussion and making himself available throughout the clinic time.”

“The details provided were ones I have never learned before – very informative and engaging.”
– Students

Tiffany Abrego, PhD

Peter Alahi, MD
Appointment to
Associate Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Bakir was an amazing attending! He was very enthusiastic in providing relevant research articles that are useful regardless of our career paths. His daily teaching sessions were extremely helpful and some of the best teaching I have had in residency.”

– Resident

M2 Golden Apple Award - Class of 2024

“Dr. Bach was an exceptional mentor throughout the year. She engaged students during the small neuropathology labs, as well as anatomy labs with active demonstrations and learning opportunities. She consistently facilitated discussions and teaching moments in the most humble and kind manner, in which students felt extremely comfortable asking questions and seeking clarification. Her pre-recorded video preparatory material was just as high quality, incorporating high-yield information in easy-to-understand slides.”

– Student

Sarah Bach, MD

Mustafa Bakir, MD
UICOMP Outstanding Teaching Award

“He goes out of his way in teaching and the positive evaluations from trainees are a testament to his hard work and commitment. He also has collaborated with other academic leaders within the system to better the trainee experience. He has a knack for engaging and motivating trainees. He provides constructive feedback and is open to receiving it as well. He is very dynamic in his style of teaching and is able to connect with the spectrum of trainees from M3 to senior Gastroenterology fellows.”
– Colleague

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 4: Circulation & Respiration, Basic Science

“Dr. Berrocal did a great job at explaining his thinking when answering each question and explaining why each answer was right/wrong.”
– Student
Outstanding Senior Scholar

“Dr. Rida Boulos always gave respectful care and encouragement to mothers and their developing unique fetuses. He loved to teach medical students the wonders and science of the female reproductive system, the complexities of fetal development and the art of healthy deliveries. He continues to have medical concerns for women and their progeny as well as interest in the training and understanding of forthcoming physicians.”

– Colleague, Senior Scholars Group

UICOMP Outstanding Service Award

“Dr. Boyd has shown remarkable sensitivity and fortitude in managing resident and staff anxiety and concerns. He has helped to develop protocols, craft guidelines, address questions, and help others navigate the pandemic. His leadership and commitment to medicine and his colleagues has been a bright light for many in our department.”

– Colleague
Promotion to
Associate Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Bramlet is a wonderful teacher. His love for his work is obvious, and his love for teaching even more so. He always took the time to answer any questions, draw out diagrams of the various diagnoses that we dealt with, and explain the theory behind management.”
– Student

Matthew Bramlet, MD

Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award
for the Obstetrics and Gynecology Clerkship

“Dr. Chakravarthy was a pleasure to work with! She created an environment that always made me feel welcome to ask questions. She taught with enthusiasm and encouraged me to learn more with each patient we discussed!”
– Student

Shruti Chakravarthy, MD
Promotion to Clinical Associate Professor Department of Medicine

“Dr. Chambers-Damm has been an excellent mentor to myself and the other residents rotating through the clinic. There are too many examples to list, but if I wasn’t so set on hospital medicine from the start I may have considered switching to primary care because of how she interacts with her patients and how much trust they have in her.”

– Resident

Kristen Chambers-Damm, MD

Promotion to Clinical Associate Professor Department of Medicine

“Dr. Charles is very approachable and willing to teach. He is genuinely interested in the growth of the fellows and the program and actively seeks out opportunities for fellows to develop a better understanding of electrophysiology. Overall it was a pleasure working with Dr. Charles.”

– Fellow

David Charles, DO
Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 5: Digestion & Homeostasis II, Clinical Science

“Dr. Christison is a phenomenal presenter and really keeps us all engaged! Love the energy.”

– Student

Amy Christison, MD

Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award for the Internal Medicine Clerkship

“She showcases model behavior in her patient interactions for the students. She uses artful questioning for students to stimulate their thought process and challenges them to read more. Her style of rounding is conducive to improving clinical decision making for the learners. She frequently takes time to have small learning sessions for the students on different topics. She made rounding an exciting opportunity for the learners. Students highly rated their experiences with her.”

– Colleague

Felicia Couri, DO
UICOMP Outstanding Teaching Award

“Dr. Creeden is an excellent teacher and great at balancing letting residents read studies without letting the list get too overwhelming. He has vast knowledge and is able to explain things in a way that is more succinct and easier to understand. I have learned a lot from him and look forward to working with him more!”

– Resident

Sean Creeden, MD

Promotion to Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Croland was always open to answering students’ questions. She made it a point to educate her students on rounds, and she encouraged students to look up literature that could help explain particular conditions that patients were exhibiting.”

– Student

Trina Croland, MD
Phase 3 Teaching Excellence Award for the Pediatric Subinternship

“Dr. Cross has been a persistent and eager teacher and mentor for myself and the teams I work on. His genuine desire to share an evidence-based approach is seen in every clinical pearl he provides his team. I genuinely enjoy knowing that every day I work with Dr. Cross I’m going to learn something new.”

– Student

Adam Cross, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 6: Brain & Behavior, Basic Science

“Dr. Darr explained concepts very well during the session.”

– Student

Andrew Darr, PhD
Phase 3 Teaching Excellence Award for the Obstetrics and Gynecology Subinternship

“As busy as he is, he still always made time for teaching, even if it was just for a moment between patients.”

“Dr. Elkattah really prioritized medical student education. He prioritized hands-on learning and made that learning possible.”

– Students

Rayan Elkattah, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 3: Skin, Muscle, & Movement, Basic Science

“Shannon truly brings anatomy to life. I appreciate how he incorporates clinical pearls into our dissection sessions.”

– Student

Shannon Egli, MS
Phase 3 Teaching Excellence Award for the Internal Medicine Subinternship

“Students felt she was always very welcoming and a fun attending to work with. Her teaching style of including algorithms for choosing antibiotics was well liked by the students. She explained steps in care of the patients with great detail to the students. Students really enjoyed their time spent with her.”
– Colleague

Denise Francisco, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 5: Digestion & Homeostasis II, Basic Science

“Dr. Fisher was excellent in his style and was instrumental in my learning of Histology.”
– Student

Jonathan Fisher, PhD
Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Longitudinal Course: DoCS 2

“I had the good fortune of being assigned to Dr. Graumlich as my DoCS preceptor during my first two years of medical school. He is so natural at creating an environment where we could ask him really anything with no judgment. He really just wants the best for us. He is always so happy to help us. Dr. Graumlich is the best and we are so lucky to have him.”
– Student

James Graumlich, MD

Phase 2 and 3 Teaching Excellence Awards for the Surgery Clerkship and Subinternship

“He is immensely knowledgeable and is able to answer most surgical questions in a quick and easily digestible way.”

“He spent time to talk to me and was extremely helpful in describing the case as well as general advice about career paths in medicine. I really enjoyed my time working with him!”
– Students

Jacob Hopping, MD
UICOMP Outstanding Teaching Award

“Dr. Horvath frequently serves as the leader of Medicine Morning Report; a daily teaching conference for residents and students. In my opinion, Dr. Horvath is one of the most talented of all our faculty when it comes to teaching in this venue. She is always well-prepared, her content is well-organized and appropriately paced. She knows how to move with the audience’s needs, and is particularly adept at interfacing with learners in an upbeat and effective way.”

– Colleague

Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award for the Family Medicine Clerkship

“Dr. Jaffer created a welcoming learning environment that made it easier for me as a medical student to learn and engage with the patients and the team. I appreciated his efforts to involve me in patient conversations and he listened to me when I had input on the case that was being discussed. I felt like a useful member of the team and learned a significant amount about palliative/hospice measures. His education in this has fortified my interest in the field.”

– Student
Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 1: Body Systems & Homeostasis I, Clinical Science

“Dr. Jager was a fantastic facilitator.”
– Student

Matthew Jager, DO

Promotion to Professor of Clinical Pediatrics Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Javed was very dedicated to student education. He was great to work with. I enjoyed my experience in the NICU and learned a lot from the experience. I also appreciate him allowing me to present patients and be involved in patient care.”
– Student

Muhammad Javed, MD
UICOMP Faculty of the Year Award

“Dr. Kasper loves taking care of patients. He learns their story and individualizes the treatment of those for whom he cares. Early in the pandemic, he arranged for a couple hospitalized with COVID to spend their wedding anniversary together with a cake. He adds these kinds of special touches to care that epitomize the compassionate physician that we all want to find to care for us. There are so many stories like these and he does them every day without asking for recognition or glory. He just enjoys the beauty of caring for others.”

– Colleague

Outstanding Teaching and Service for Community-Based Faculty

Promotion to Clinical Associate Professor Department of Surgery

“Dr. Kishore is a tremendous teacher and mentor. He often spends time after his clinic hours and on the weekend to work on research projects with me. By inspiring me to complete these projects, he has helped me become a better writer and investigator.”

– Student
M3 Golden Apple Award - Class of 2023

“Dr. Lee’s passion for education and his profession was evident since day 1 on my OB/GYN rotation. He is committed to student success and the care of his patients.”

“I greatly appreciated Dr. Lee’s involvement with the medical students as course director. You can tell he truly cares about us and would do anything to help us succeed.”

– Students

Thomas Lee, DO

Appointment to Associate Professor of Clinical Pediatrics Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Lichtenstein puts his patients and his patients’ parents at ease while providing excellent patient care. He is the consummate professional – accurately assessing patients, judiciously offering effective therapeutic options and, when appropriate, operating with the utmost skill and efficiency.”

– Colleague

Steven Lichtenstein, MD
Outstanding Faculty Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Award

“Dr. Martial is working to improve education surrounding DEI topics to ensure our health care providers are providing the best care to disadvantaged populations.”
– Colleague

Annia Martial, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 4: Circulation & Respiration, Clinical Science

“Dr. Meeker was great at explaining the pulmonary aspect of the core case.”
– Student

Jared Meeker, DO
Outstanding Teaching and Service for Community-Based Faculty

“One of the most meaningful things Dr. Meyer provided was a great example of how to treat patients. He was always kind and open with his patients about their situation and what levels of treatment he and the hospital could provide. Nothing says how good a physician is by the level of comfort and confidence their patients have in the care they are getting. Dr. Meyer’s patients always had above and beyond things to say about him and the care they received. I am lucky to have worked with him.”
– Resident

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Longitudinal Course: DoCS 1

“Dr. Miller is a great preceptor who always puts in the extra work to make sure that we understand how to take care of a patient. He always makes sure that we have the tools we need to succeed and know how to use them. I believe that a lot of the medical students would benefit from having a preceptor like him.”
– Student
M4 Golden Apple Award - Class of 2022

“Dr. Mischler exemplifies what it means to be a great physician, teacher, and mentor. He brings a light-hearted but extremely informative approach to teaching which students appreciate. This, combined with his authentic care for the students he mentors, makes him a favorite for students.”
– Student

Appointment to Clinical Professor Department of Radiology

“I have been looking forward to Dr. Mukherji’s lecture since the last he gave. He breaks difficult topics down into clear and concise details that make sense to one at an early stage like myself. He keeps us engaged and I come away learning a lot.”
– Student
Promotion to Clinical Associate Professor Department of Medicine

“Dr. Ekanka is a very good educator. He taught me a lot during my rotation in cardiology. I enjoyed his guidance and teaching skills during the rounds.”
– Resident

Ekanka Mukhopadhyay, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 3: Skin, Muscle, & Movement, Clinical Science

“Dr. Oliver emphasized important points, made his presentation funny, and knew when not to go in depth on material we already knew.”
– Student

Bradley Oliver, MD
Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award for the Pediatric Clerkship

“Dr. Petrak is an excellent teacher and a role-model clinician. Because she cares for children with suspected abuse/neglect she must deliver complex information in difficult circumstances every single day. There are lots of clinical pearls to learn from how she communicates with children, families, colleagues, the legal system, and DCFS. She embodies what it means to be a compassionate pediatrician who tirelessly advocates for children.”

– Student

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 1: Body Systems & Homeostasis I, Basic Science

“Dr. Pinson taught us all the important topics and made sure we were prepared for coagulation.”

– Student
Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 6: Brain & Behavior, Clinical Science

“Dr. Podolej did a great job bringing relevant clinical information into the case.”
– Student

Outstanding Faculty Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Award

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 7: Regulation & Reproduction, Basic Science

“As a pharmacology faculty at UICOMP, Dr. Roni has actively participated in scholarly activities on DEI and is always seeking opportunities to enhance the diversity of our campus.”
– Colleague
Phase 2 Teaching Excellence Award for the Neurology Clerkship

“Consistently his lectures in the M2 and M3 years were scored highly both by M2 and M3 students and peer evaluation. His bedside teaching during daily rounds in the M3 year is excellent, as is his small group interaction. He has the ability to make the learner at ease and to stimulate the student to participate. His attitude is humble and his clinical abilities are outstanding.”

– Colleague

Appointment to Associate Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Sandiford is a great attending. She spent quality time on rounds explaining her thought process and she was very thorough. I never felt like I had unanswered questions after rounds. She showed great empathy to us residents and the patients/families. She is very smart and did a great job teaching on rounds.”

– Resident
Appointment to Professor of Clinical Pediatrics
Department of Pediatrics

“Dr. Siddiqi is an excellent and outstanding physician. He is extremely knowledgeable in the field of developmental pediatrics and behavioral health. His efficient, patient-centered approach makes him an ideal clinician.”
– Colleague

Siraj Siddiqi, MD

Phase 3 Teaching Excellence Award for the Family Medicine Subinternship

“I loved working with Dr. Smith. She is an excellent role model of how to educate patients and practice patient-centered medicine. I was very grateful for her feedback on the last day of service.”
– Student

Laura Smith, MD
UICOMP Outstanding Service Award

“Dr. Stewart embodies an ideal of what the spirit and practice of service at UICOMP can look like; service across a spectrum of learners, from academic to clinical at both UICOMP and OSF-SFMC. Her service has been fueled by her attitudes of charity and of putting others first; attitudes that I see her display regularly.”
– Colleague

Richard Tapping, PhD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 2: Pathogenesis, Basic Science

“Dr. Tapping was very thorough and expounded on topics well.”
– Student

Sidney Stewart, MD
Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 7: Regulation & Reproduction, Clinical Science

“Dr. Vazquez-Melendez is so knowledgeable, kind, approachable and she encouraged interaction.”
– Student

Elsa Vazquez-Melendez, MD

Phase 1 Teaching Excellence Award for Block 2: Pathogenesis, Clinical Science

“Dr. Veeder provided excellent clinical insight on anemias and other blood pathologies – all with a good laugh. I enjoyed his session immensely.”
– Student

Michael Veeder, MD
M1 Golden Apple Award - Class of 2025

“An absolute pleasure to learn from – Dr. Yong always gave 110% to lectures and made learning very engaging.”

“Dr. Yong goes consistently above and beyond for her students. She is such a pleasant addition to class time, and I can tell she really cares about teaching and helping students. I feel well supported by her as an M1.”

“Sherri Yong Fan Club (SYFC) for life”

– Students
