¹ By petition, MUS 517, 518, 521, and 524 may also be approved as meeting this requirement if deemed appropriate by the instructor.

² Although no departmental outside minor is required, courses outside of music that relate to and support the proposed area of dissertation research will normally be expected. It is assumed that such courses will be organized in some rational way and that the PhD committee will usually include a faculty member representing one or more of the areas under whose purview such courses are offered. Only 400- and 500-level courses will count towards the PhD.
